Music Notes

Joseph Scriven was born in Ireland and wanted to be a Merchant Marine like his father, however, was unable to because of poor health. He fell in love, was engaged and then his fiancée was killed. He left Ireland and moved to Canada, fell in love again, was engaged, and his fiancée died after being baptized in a lake in Ontario in winter. At that time he received word that his mother was ill. He penned the poem "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" to encourage her. He was buried "feet to feet" with his fiancée so they would be resurrected "face to face." In all of life's difficulties, may we always remember what a friend we have in Jesus!
